The work of repairing the damaged Russian battle-ships is progressing rapidly. The Chinese workmen were panic-stricken by the bombardment, but they are now working well, regardless of the approach of the Chinese New Year.

Investigation shows that the city and fortress were wholly undamaged by the Japanese attack. The people, naturally, are anxious and business is at a complete standstill, but the utmost tranquillity prevails.

After the religious service Sunday there was a military review before the Viceroy, Admiral Alexieff, who denounced the action of the Japanese as barbarous and expressed confidence that the Russian soldiers would fully

IAPAN'S NEW CRUISERS ARRIVE AT YOKOSUKA.

YOKOHAMA, Tuesday, Feb. 16.—The cruiser Nisshin arrived safely at Yokosuka at 9 o'clock this morning and the cruiser Kasuga at 11 o'clock. These two vessels, recently purchased from the Argentine Republic, will increase materially the preponderance of the Japanese naval strength.

JAPANESE SUFFERED AT PORT ARTHUR FIGHT.

YANGKOW, Manchurin, Port of Newchang, Thursday, Feb. 11, by despatch boat to Tientsin, Feb. 15 .- In the attacks upon Port Arthur by the Japanese fleets on Feb. 8 and 9, the Russian battle-ships Tsarevitch and i Retvizan and the cruiser Pallada were damaged, two Japanese torpedo boats were sunk and one Japanese battle-ship and one large Japanese cruiser were put out of action.

The Russians lost thirty men killed and eighty-four wounded. Outside of the disablement of the three ships mentioned the Russian loss was slight. The first attack was made by six Japanese torpedo boats at midnight on Feb. 8. They burned the Russian lights and used Russian signals. They were close in before they were discovered. Torpedoes discharged by them disabled the three Russian vessels. SECOND FIGHT A GREAT NAVAL DISPLAY.

This engagement lasted three hours. At 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, Feb. 9, there was another engagement, this one general, between fifteen Japanese and thirteen Russian large ships of war. Although the three damaged Russian ships were aground, they took part in the action with their guns. Twenty-two Russians were killed and sixty-four wounded in this engage-

Six Japanese torpedo-boats had approached within half a mile of the Russian fleet and were showing lights, funnels and signals just like those of the Russians. The Japanese torpedo-boats crept quite close to the Russian ships before they were discovered.

Each of the Japanese boats discharged torpedoes, three of which took effect, striking the battle-ships Tsarevitch and Retvizan and the cruiser

The three damaged ships returned to the harbor to avoid sinking. Notwithstanding the continuous fire from the ships and forts, four of .e Japanese torpedo-boats escaped.

IAPANESE SUFFERED HEAVILY.

One, however, was sunk, and another, which was in a sinking condition, was deserted by her crew and was afterward captured by the Russians. Several Japanese cruisers were visible in the distance, and the remain-

The action ceased at 3 A. M. The loss on the Russian ships was eight killed and twenty wounded.

Apart from the disablement of three Russian ships, the damage done to the fleet and forts was not very great. On Tuesday morning news arrived from Dalny that the Japanese fleet was steering westward, in attack formation. It came in sight at about 11 A. M.

There were in all fifteen ships, in two lines of battle-six battle-ships, six first-class cruisers and three second-class cruisers. The Russians had outside thirteen large vessels, under Admiral Stark.

ANOTHER REPORT OF PORT ARTHUR FIGHT.

An official cablegram from the home Government to the Japanese recover Minister in Washington, and relayed in cipher to General Consul Uchida, No. 99 Nassau street, to-day, is as follows:

The Japanese Consul at Chefoo cabled the home overnment Feb. 14 that the captain of the United States steamship Peliades, just arrived from Port Arthur, reported that the Russian cruiser Askold, which was damaged by Japanese shells during the Port Arthur bombardment and was riding in the inner harbor, sank Feb. 13. The American captain reported that he Russian casualties were twenty-nine killed and sixty wounded, the Murphy says., made a break for him fatter being carried ashore before the cruiser sank. The captain also said with a crowbar in his hands.

that the Golden Hill Fortress when attacked by the Japanese fleet suffered. The prisoner was so close up a loss to the Russians of two killed and several wounded.

Previous reports told of the injury to and beaching of the three warships Tsarevitch, Pallada and Retvizan. No mention was made of serious

CALLED A LIAR IN

Mayor McClellan's strenuous marshal, John J. Young, was called an "infamous liar" in Mayor McClellan's private office to-day.

The marshal has three charges against him for being too strenuous. In each case he is said to have used determination and he was ready to back it up with force. Young, who is a tall, 'raw-boned man, was being questioned by William Edwards, secretary of the Corporation Finance Company, of No. 27 William street. George J. Youngman, President of the company, testified that Young had come to his office and seized a desk used by a man named Burke, but which was the property of the Corporation Finance Company. Testimony showed that Young was armed with club and pistol. He drew the club but not the pistol and he got the desk.

Young told the Mayor that he had been a Marshal since last May. Since that time has has been set upon by ogs and assaulted. Altogether he has suffered much for being strenuous.
Young was still on the stand when Edwards arose. His face was bloodless and he called out:

"This man is an infamous liar." Young looked pained. He clenched his fist and he caught hold of the club he had just shown the Mayor, but he did not move from his chair. For a Applies for Habeas Corpus Pa- second there was silence. Then Applies for Habeas Corpus Pa- McClellan, his eyes flashing, turned

"What do you mean by this?" shouted "You shall not use such language here. You shall not!" The other charges against Young were then heard. Mayor McClellan reserved decision in all the cases.

Kicks Against Marshals.

Mayor McClellan's patience was well nigh exhausted when at 1 o'clock this afternoon he got through with a three hours' trial of three of the City Marshals charged with divers things.

He had to listen to almost endias testimony from a score or more of witnesses and the largest amount involved was $330, and from that sum the amounts involved ranged down to a $17 laundry bill.

When the trials were ended the Mayor heaved a sigh of relief and hurried into his office to again resume the Executive business and try to pacify the score or more of politicians and others who wanted to see him.

The Mayor was very much interested to know that a City Marshal removed for cause would still keep up a City Marshals sign and declared he would took into it. Decision was reserved on all three charges. Kicks Against Marshals.
